Marshall Jewell's Latest Exploit.

A Remarkable Letter Produced Whose Genuineness is not Questioned.

THE PHILP TRIAL.

Charge that he Wrote the Famous Chinese Letter Completely Exploded.

NEW YORK.

The Empire State Sure for Hancock -The State Committee Confident.

THE EVE OF BATTLE.

Latest View of the Situation. The following leiter from Marshal Jewell, chairman of the Republican national committee, was published Saturday by Truth, the paper in which the "Chinese letter," alleged to have been written by General Gartield to H. L. Morey, was first published: "CONFIDENTIAL. " New York, October 26, 1880. "MY DEAR GENERAL GARFIELD: I think Truth was deceived by the Morey They thought it was genuine. letter. Finding it is not, they have consulted their lawyer and friend, and through him offer to come out and say so plainly, the only consideration for it being consideration for Judge Dittenhoefer, their friend and

"By consideration I mean that you and myself should know and recognize it as Judge D.'s act, and the obligation, if any, should be from you to him for it. So far as I could I have assured them that you would so consider it. It's a great service

"Yours, very truly,

"MARSHALL JEWELL." The explanation given of this letter by ter" had been published in fac simile the publication of other fac simile plates which it was avouched would sustain the authenticity of the letter was promised. Mr. Hart learned, he says, that John J. Davenport had determined to seize and destroy this material on Tuesday evening, October 26, last, and in order to protect himself went to his lawyer, ex-Judge Abram J. Dittenhoefer. Mr. Dittenhoefer, who is a Republican, had before this in conversation with Mr. Hart, insisted that the "Chinese letter" was a forgery, and mged Hart to acknowledge it. Hart had insisted that it was genuine. Dittenhoefer now informed Hart that Philp was to be arrested, and said that Hart would be foolish if he did not save himself. Hart says he had made up his mind to set up a trap for Marshall Jewell, and he accordingly suggested to Dittenhoefer that the latter should "influence me to come out and say that we have been deceived" (about the authenticity of the Chinese letter) and get the United States district attorneyship as a reward for that service. Dittenhoefer, Hart intimates, jumped at the suggestion, arranged an interview with Jewell, which occurred at Dittenhoefer's office at 5 o'clock that afternoon (Tuesday) and said that he had secured satisfactory terms from Jewell. Hart took three witnesses and Mr. Jewell his secretary to the interview. At the interview Jewell asked Hart if the letter was not a forgery and Hart replied that it was not and that he could prove that it was not and that he could prove that it was not. Dittenhoefer repeated that terms satisfactory to him had been agreed to by Mr. Jewell. Hart stipulated that Daven-port's contemplated "raid" should be stopped, and Jewell promised that it should be stopped. Jewell wrote the let-ter above printed as the part of the bargain. Hart secured the copy of the letter, and, instead of suppressing his proofs and announcing next morning that he had been deceived as to the authenticity of the Chinese letter, reaffirmed in the paper next day the authenticity of the letter and published the additional proofs. What It Shows. The New York Sun reviews the above startling revelations as follows: The above is so remarkable a document that we could hardly help doubting its genuineness; so we sent to the Reuublican headquarters to inquire about it. Mr. Jewell refused to deny, while his secretary admitted, its genuineness.

What does this letter show? It shows that Marshall Jewell is a huckster in the offices of the United States.

He is the confidential, chosen, bosom friend of Gen. Garfield, and this letter proves that, knowing Garfield as well as he does, he believes him capable of dickering away most important offices for immediate aid.

Jewell promisés and feels sure Garfield will affirm the trade! And it is nothing less than the office of United States district attorney for the mort important district in the United States—an office long held by Prescott Hall and afterwrad by Charles O'Conor, Daniel S. Dickinson, and George Bliss-that is offered for an admission that a certain letter attributed to Gen. Garfield is spu-have often been sought and always cordially given. The Democratic organization in this state is complete in every respect. First, there are the county committees, composed of one active man from each town in the state; then the election district committees, of two active party workers in each election district of the state; and then the school district committees of five earnest Democrats in each of the 11,000 school districts of the state. There is still another committee from each road district. Thus an effective organization is kept up ready to respond any demand, and reaching down in every neigh-borhood from one end of the state to the other. Inquiries addressed to the school district committees early brought in the names of all the doubtful and undecided voters in the state, and regulary every week each of these men has been supplied with Hancock documents and Democratic newspapers. The requests for the names and addresses of Republicans who had actually declared their intention to support Hancock brought in to the committee the names of nearly twenty thousand Re-publicans, and they, too, have been supplied weekly with proper reading. In addition to this work, which has been a characteristic of the successful Democratic canvasses in this state for some years, there has been an extraordinary speaking campaign far beyond any ever had before by the Democrats of New York. For policy's sake, in order not to apprise the Republican committee of the points being covered, no announcements of meetings have been published, but every locality has been amply supplied with the best Democratic talent in the country. Speaker Randall, George W. Julian, Senator James R. Doolittle, S. F. Cary, Durbin Ward, Horatio Seymour, Francis Kernan, Rufus

W. Peckham, Gilbert C. Walker, George B. McClellan, Daniel E. Sickles, Montgomery Blair, Lester B. Faulkner, Richard O'Gorman, Willian Dorsheimer, John T. Hoffman, Edgar K. Apgar, Abram S. Wilbur, John R. Fellows, William A. Beach, James Haggerty, and a hest of others have been speaking almost nightly, and the reports from these meetings show that the country Democracy was never so enthusiastic as now. "The later work of the campaign has been devoted to arrangements for the polling of every Democratic vote in every election district of the state, and to prevent and punish all attempts at repeating, fraudulent voting, false counting of votes. and notably coercion of employees. Under a law of last winter the committee has appointed two poll watchers at every poll in the state outside of New York and Brook-"It is their proposition and I have ac- lyn. Mr. Perry Belmont's canvass in Suf-folk, Queens, and Richmond; Mr. Waldo Beach in Sullivan, Rockland and Orange; Mr. Pindar in Ulster, Greene, and Schotrict, all determined to win, will bring out every Democratic vote in those sections, and, with New York and Kings, will take the party to Rensselaer county with at least 110,000 majority. To say that those figures can be overcome is, in the minds of men well posted in the Democratic canvass, the height of absurdity. Close calculators in the state committee claim the

The Defense of Philp. Cloud of Witnesses Who Swear That the "Chinese Letter" is Not in His Hand, In the investigation into the Garfield Chinese letter in New York on Saturday, Andrew McLean, of the Brooklyn Eagle, was called for the defense and testified that he had known Philp for twelve years and was perfectly familiar with his handwriting. Having examined the Morey letter and its envelope he said, "I have no doubt whatever; that writing is not the writing of Mr. Philp. I must have edited as much as a thousand columns of

Mr. McLean was not cross-examined George Gordon, another Eagle editor, testified that he was familiar with Philp's handwriting and that the Morey letter and its address were not in Philp's handwriting. He would not believe James McDer-

The Morey letter and the address on the envelope were not in Philp's handwriting, and he would not believe McDermott under oath.

The manuscript of a novel written by Philp was handed to the witness and he pointed out many instances of words terminating in "ys." when the plural was written "ies" and not "ys." It will be remembered that somebody testified for the prosecution that Philp habitually wrote ' ys " for " ies."

William Street Harvey, another Eagle writer, testified that he had known Philp for fourteen years; was at one time his associate editor on the Brooklyn Union. "I am prepared to say positively," he testi-fied, "that the Morey letter and envelope now submitted to me were not written by Mr. Philp." D. L. Swett, foreman of the printing-offices where are printed Chic and the Dramatic News, to which Philp is a contributor, testified that he is perfectly familiar with Philps handwriting, and that he saw in the Morey letter no resemblances to that handwriting. I am a Republican and am going to vote for Mr. Garfield, he testified on cross-examination. Henry Enton testified that he had edited thousands of pages of Philp's manuscript. Worth Knowing.

There is a place in Philadelphia where a stranger may buy his clothes, and fare as well as if he knew the whole city by heart; and if knows nothing about the value of cloths, or of clothes, he is as well off as if he were a good judge of both.

The reason is that everything to be found there is made theremade and sold under a system which rarely allows mistakss to occur, and which corrects them if they do occur.

OAK HALL is the place; and its practice may be summed up in a few words. If you get there what you don't want to keep at the price, you return it, and get your money back.

This means a great deal more than appears on the surface. It means that you are not going to get what you will not want to keep at the price, if the merchant can help it.
